Classify and Categorize

Classifying and categorizing information as you read, organizes new learning to give a better understanding of what the author said.

When you classify and categorize you put things that are alike into groups.

Questions and Frames

What categories can we create from the information on page ___?

What do the items have in common?

_____ is a type of _____.

_____, _____, and _____ are all / all have

_____.